

Dr. Glines Takes Leave; Seaman Begins Duties

Dr. Herbert E. Glines, head basketball coach at the University and director of athletics since 1945 has been granted a one-year's leave of absence from his coaching duties, according to Dr. Henry W. Littlefield, vice president.

Gus Seaman, freshman basketball coach at the University since 1956 will step up to the head coaches position, Dr. Littlefield said, and Don Feely, a star on the University's court squad last season will take over as freshman basketball coach.

Dr. Glines said that greater concentration on teaching as well as responsibilities as athletic director prompted the move. He is an associate professor of mathematics.

"Leaving the coaches ranks for even one year is a hard decision to make," Dr. Glines observed, "especially for someone who loves the sport." Memories of some great teams and many outstanding players help to make the break a bit easier, however.

His teams have compiled a record of 156 victories against 136 defeats, a total that is quite remarkable in view of the fact that many opponents have been squads of national reputation.

Three of Dr. Glines teams have battled their way into the New England NAIA district playoffs finishing first in the 1953-54 school year, second in 1952-53 and third in 1951-52.

The Knights represented New England at Kansas City at the regional playoffs in 1954 losing in the first round. The best record ever posted by one of his teams was in the 1951-52 campaign when the squad won 21 games and lost seven with Seaman, Lou Saccone and Dick Labash leading the attack.

Last year the Purple and White posted a 14-7 slate including a 7-1 record in Tri-State league competition, beating Fairfield University for the league crown. A playoff game was won by Fairfield, 100-94.

Seaman will face a rebuilding task in his first season with nine regulars from last year's squad lost through graduation. Missing are leading scorers and rebounders Bob Laemel, Ed Wysocki and Joe Collole as well as Dick Whitcomb, Tony Granger, Ev Hart, Bob Lazar, Bill Daragh and Feeley.

Only four veterans are returning, they are: Joe Yazinski, Danny Morrello, Tom Lipkowitz, and Lou Kocis. Tom McCarthy and Richie Khentigan, who played freshman ball two years may also play.

Seaman will have to depend heavily upon freshmen from his last year's squad including Joe Troiano, Roy Robbins, Fred Schack, Doug Holmquist, Harry Herer, Roger Trupin, Jerry Feldman and Al Proto. Inexperience will be a big factor Seaman believes.

Seaman graduated from Bassick High School in 1948. He played varsity basketball and football at Bassick. At the University he played four years of varsity basketball, becoming a member of the select 1,000 point club along with Saccone, Lebash and the great Alvin Clinkscale. Seaman entered the service after graduating and returned in 1955.

University Gets Approval For 114 New Parking Spaces

Additional parking space for approximately 114 cars has been obtained by the University under a new ruling by the Bridgeport Zoning Board of Appeals.

In granting the University's application for off-street parking, the board authorized vacant lots at 222 Lafayette St., and 56, 68, and 86 Park Place to be used as parking lots. The board stipulated that the areas must be fenced, paved, and manned by attendants.

The new lots are expected to ease the current parking problem caused by a record number of cars on campus.

Prior to this the only off-street space available for parking was the loading zone behind the Tech Building, which holds approximately 250 cars. This space has been extended into the area behind Dana Hall, which accommodates an additional 25 cars. The lot is technically restricted to use by students with classes in the two buildings.

Last year, there were about 4,000 cars registered for campus parking. Campus Police Chief Elmer Maher cited the situation as acute within several blocks of the campus, and listed one of the causes as the reluctance of students to park a short distance away from the campus. The situation was so acute that residents in the area were unable to park in front of their own houses.

Yearbook Shows Several Changes

A unique 1960 Wistarian, featuring a madras cover and two page spread color pictures, is now available to under graduates.

With the guidance of Jack Stewart, the Wistarian staff prepared an offbeat yearbook far from the "high-school" type found in the past.

Startling color pictures were used to set off different sections. They included: shots of Marina Hall entrance, the sun setting on Long Island Sound, the lawn of Alumni Hall in spring and an action shot of the football team.

STUDENTS CHEER NIXONS

Students from the University led the wild display of enthusiasm expressed by approximately 15,000 people when vice president Richard M. Nixon and his wife Pat visited Bridgeport Monday.

The group screamed, "We want Nixon, We want Nixon" at a fever pitch when the candidate arrived in his limosine at the parking lot opposite the Mechanics and Farmers bank.

The University group of Young Republicans, headed by Dave Simpson, a senior majoring in Political Science, made up part of the official greeting party for the presidential candidate.

The University band, under the direction of Raymond Stuart added to the enthusiasm by playing campaign songs. The Bridgettes added color to the rally by performing in front of the band.

University President James H. Halsey was on the platform with other Bridgeport dignitaries.

The vice-president was introduced to the gathering by Senator Prescott Bush.

He began his speech by thanking the University and Fairfield University students for their escort and welcome.

In his speech Nixon stressed that the survival of this nation will depend on Americans sticking together. He said, "It is not enough to vote how somebody tells you or for a party, you must select the best man who can do the job for America."

The Vice President told the Bridgeport gathering of the necessity for experience and in regard to the last seven years of the Eisenhower administration he said, "Anyone who says America is standing still hasn't been around America." He stated that "the country has been going ahead for the last seven years and it will continue to do so under the Republicans."

A substantial number of students have been working with local and state Young Republicans for some time, according to

Richard M. Nixon

Dave Simpson. Active participation will continue through the election, he said.

Halsey Chosen UN Day Chief

Dr. James H. Halsey, president, has been renamed state chairman of United Nations Day by Governor Ribicoff.

In his proclamation the Governor designated Oct. 24 as UN Day and urged support of the United Nations as essential to the survival of civilization.

President Halsey stated that he hoped all students will note UN Day for they can look back with pride and confidence at UN accomplishments. He added that "although it has shortcomings, the UN has the necessary force and power to treat the world's problems."

Dr. Halsey noted that the purpose of United Nations Day is to call attention to the principals and accomplishments of the UN.

The national committee on the observance of UN Day states that official and unofficial celebrations now take place in more than 10,000 communities. These celebrations consist of tree planting, film festivals, model General Assemblies, Security Council meetings and luncheons featuring UN speakers.

Governor Ribicoff summed up his proclamation by saying, "The United Nations has shown on many occasions that it can be instrumental in reaching peaceful solutions to international disputes."

McGary Made SEA Chief

The Student Education Association held its first meeting of the year at which James McGary, a senior majoring in secondary education, was elected president.

Also elected at the meeting were: Elizabeth Guzzi, vice president; George Sayres, treasurer; Rona Lazin, recording secretary; Sarah Howard, first vice-president of SEA in Connecticut and Judith Krawitz, chairman of the State Legislative Association.

Dr. Carroll Palmer, chairman of the department of education is faculty advisor for the group along with Prof. Samuel Gomez and Prof. Marjorie R. Hansen.

The Student Education Association is a professional organization affiliated with the National Education Association and the Connecticut Education Association.

SEA at the University, which now boasts a membership of 175 is the second largest in the state. The Central Connecticut State Teachers College branch of SEA, with 300 members is the largest in the state.

"SEA gives future teachers an insight as to what is going on in education today both on a state and national level," states McGary.

A joint meeting of SEA and the Graduate Club of the College of Education is planned on Oct. 25 in the Lincoln Room of the Library. The Commissioner of Education of the State of Connecticut is slated as the guest speaker.

Littlefield Memorial Library Established

The library was donated by Dr. and Mrs. Littlefield, and various friends and relatives.

At the dedication ceremonies, Dr. Littlefield presented the library to Donald Belgrad, president of the local chapter of Sigma Chi.

2 National Newspaper Week

National Newspaper Week is 21 years old in the United States this year.

But individual freedom in the United States is 169 years old this year.

National Newspaper Week was initiated and is sponsored annually by Newspaper Association Managers, Inc., an organization of executive heads of national, regional and state newspaper publishers and press associations.

Our three great freedoms set forth in the Bill of Rights are "Freedom of the Press," "Freedom of Speech" and "Freedom of Religion." The free press of Colonial America paved the way for these basic freedoms which became fact with the coming into force of the Bill of Rights on Dec. 15, 1791.

These freedoms belong to the people.

"Freedom of the Press" is not the property of newspapers, but of all the people . . . it is their guarantee of the right to know; their insurance against demagoguery.

"Freedom of Speech" is not the property of politicians and platform speakers, but of all the people . . . it is their own guarantee of free and unafraid expression of their convictions.

"Freedom of Religion" is not the property of minister, priest or rabbi, but of all the people . . . it is their guarantee of freedom of conscience and of divine worship in accord with that conscience.

National Newspaper Week is designed to focus attention on these freedoms. A free press is the partner of the people in the effort to preserve these rights.

Newspapers promote National Newspaper Week, not from a selfish motive, but to emphasize these basic and vital freedoms, the partnership of press and people and the need for everyone exhibiting dedication and diligence in the eternal effort to preserve these freedoms.

It is of the utmost importance we present a solid front for freedom in a world in which freedom is being attacked so violently and so unscrupulously. Truth makes us free. Let us now resolve to continue the dissemination of truth as the indestructible bulwark against ignorance, enslavement, bigotry and political chicanery.

Newspapers are, indeed, the guardians of freedom.

Mizak Thanks Administrators

To the Editor:
I would like to express my appreciation to Dr. Wolff and all the members of the administration who thanked the Freshmen Week Committee for a job well done.

It is encouraging words like these that inspire all student leaders, whose only reward is a few words of praise.

I am sure that if more words like those were spoken and credit were given where it is due, more of the students would take an active interest in the University and student spirit would once again appear on campus.

Students Visit Local Newspaper

In honor of National Newspaper Week, three University classes recently made a tour of the Bridgeport Post-Telegram under the direction of Prof. Howard Boone Jacobson, chairman of the journalism department.

Samuel Rosoff, circulation manager for the Post-Telegram, played host to students from Journalism 101, Newswriting and Editing, Journalism 103, Communication and Society, and Marketing 313, Advertising Copy and Layout. The tour included visits to the editorial department, the advertising department, and production facilities.

This is the twenty-first annual National Newspaper Week. Under the slogan, "Your Newspaper, Freedom's Guardian," 1700 daily, and 9000 weekly papers, as well as thousands of college and school newspapers across the country join in honoring the members of the Fourth Estate.

The slogan originated with a group of students at the University of Nevada. It evolved out of the discussions during a seminar of journalism students. The seminar cited newspapers as the "first freedom."

Receiving their share of the credit will be the 700,000 newspaper boys of North America who carry the news.

CENTRAL MICHIGAN UNIVERSITY: Education by television is the newest innovation at Central. Approximately 1500 students are currently absorbing English and biology via eleven closed-circuit television receivers set up in the Gym. The lectures are on video-tape, and are recorded and transmitted from a studio in the library. The experiment is being sponsored by a $75,000 grant from the Ford Foundation.

UNIVERSITY OF NEW MEXICO: "The chief enemy of freshmen is newly acquired freedom," a professor warns. William Huber, speaking before a freshman convocation, revealed that high drop-out rates among first-semester freshmen are not due to the student's lack of ability, but rather to lack of self-discipline. He noted that the average frosh spends 15 to 20 hours a week in class, and that the way he divides the rest of his time between academic and social interests determines whether he will remain in college.

RIDER COLLEGE: It's finally happened—the first Volkswagen police car. Chosen with an eye towards efficiency and economy, the pint-sized paddy wagon patrols the campus regularly, saving hours of footwork for campus police.

Frat Assumes Full Support Of Adopted Korean Orphan

Sigma Lambda Chi fraternity recently announced that it had taken over complete support for a Korean orphan, Jong Wan Lee, whom the fraternity "adopted" last year.

SLX hopes to send the boy through grammar school, high school and eventually college, from the profits of their open weekend.

Specially trained counsellors in the Korean field office have kept in constant touch with the fraternity on Jong's progress. A recent report from Chwa Sok Yu, case worker for the Federation, reported that after a year of strenuous study, Jong was promoted to the second grade of middle school. "He studies hard and makes an average of 91 which is excellent. His best grades are in English and he now can read and write simple English."

J.H. Berreow, Director of the Korean Field Office, also reports that Jong's mother now does needlework to make money. Free schooling is not available in Korea, and the family is still in need. Berreow hopes that the fraternity "will continue its sponsorship, particularly for his schooling."

Bill Serlin, president of SLX, recently received a letter written in Korean from Jong. It was translated by a Federation case worker. Jong thanked the fraternity for its "nice gift package." The package contained a fountain pen, pencil, blanket, towel, and tooth brush. "So I really don't know how to thank you for your sincere kindness and generosity," Jong Wan said.

Also in his letter to the fraternity was the wish for pictures, because "I'd like to see all of you so very much."

Sigma Lambda Chi will continue to support Jong, paying for tuition, books and necessities, until his education is completed. Serlin announced that it is the goal of the fraternity to eventually bring Jong the United States, and possibly to the University as a foreign exchange student.

The SLX adoption was the first of two such plans by campus organizations. Schiott Hall, under the coordination of Cynthia Gelbard, recently adopted Kwong Hew Sing, a nine year old Chinese orphan, through the Christian Fund.

SLX expressed its hope "that other fraternities and organizations on this campus will follow our lead, and adopt programs much the same as ours."

"Contemporary Political Ideologies," by Dr. Joseph Roucek, chairman of the University Sociology department, has recently been published by the Philosophical Library, N.Y. publishers.

The book is an analysis of the dominant world ideologies that exist in the world today. Included is a chapter on India's Gandhism, written by Prof. Howard Boone Jacobson, head of the department of journalism.

"The Sociology of Crime" edited by Dr. Roucek, has been released by the same publisher. Dr.

Roucek contributed a special section to the book entitled "Crime, Criminology, and Penology Behind the Iron Curtain."

Dr. Roucek has been either author, co-author or editor of over ninety books to date, and has written numerous articles for both foreign and domestic publications in the field of political science, history, sociology, education and educational sociology.

Born in Prague, Czechoslovakia, Dr. Roucek studied at Prague Commercial Academy, and later at the University of Prague (Charles University) where he became a member of the American Consular Service. He came to the United States in 1921 on a scholarship, and studied at Occidental College in Los Angeles.

While there, he supported himself by giving piano concerts and appearing in a number of movies with such stars as Lon Chaney, Rudolph Valentino and Douglas Fairbanks. He also appeared in several vaudeville shows on the western circuits, and as an entertainer in the Yellowstone Park Camps Co.

He graduated from Occidental with the help of several fellowships and scholarships, and received his M.A. and Ph. D. at New York University.

Dr. Roucek's first teaching appointment was at Centenary Junior College in New Jersey as a professor of social science. Since that time he has taught at many schools, among them Penn. State, N.Y.U., Hofstra, Kent State, San Francisco State, Reed College, the College of the Pacific, Highlands University, the University of Wyoming, San Diego State, Occidental, the University of British Columbia, and the University of Puerto Rico.

In addition, he has lectured in universities and American information centers in Spain, Italy, Yugoslavia, Austria, Germany, Holland, and France.

He is the recipient of awards from the pro-communist governments of Rumania and Yugoslavia; the Order of Knighthood (the rank of Commander) of the Star of Rumania, and the Knighthood (rank of Commander) of the Crown of Yugoslavia.

Recently, at the request of the editor of the Encyclopedia Britannica, Dr. Roucek prepared an article on Bridgeport for that publication, giving a general description of the city and indicating the basic present trends.

He is editing the January, 1961, issue of the periodical "Social Science", a special edition entitled "The Sociology of Literature, Art, Music and Mass Communications," at the request of the Board of Trustees of Pi Gamma Mu, the honorary sociological society.

He is also editing the February issue of the Journal of Human Relations on "Human Relations Behind the Iron Curtain," at the request of the editorial board of that periodical.

Dr. Roucek has published articles on "Cuba and the United States," and "The History of Spying," for the director of Instituto de Estudios Politicos, Madrid, and on "The Geopolitics of Cuba" and "The Role of Spying in International Relations," for the "London Contemporary Review."

"Neue Politische Literatur" (Frankfurt) has just published "Das Negerproblem in den Vereinigten Staaten," a translation into German of Dr. Roucek's "The Negro Problem in the United States." International Associates (Brussels) has published Dr. Roucek's article "The Psychological Impulses behind Study Abroad and its Effect on Personality," which is scheduled for translation for several foreign periodicals.

In addition, he is a member of the editorial board of the "American Journal of Economics and Sociology", the "Encyclopedia Picturama, Social Science" and the "Journal of Human Relations". He is American editor of "Il Politico", published by the University of Pavia, Italy, the "Journal of Education" published by the Dr. Alagappa Chettiar Training College, Alagappapuram, Karaikudi, India, and the "Journal of Social Research", published by J.V. College, Baraut, Meerut, India.

Dr. Roucek is currently preparing an article entitled "The Sociological Aspects of American Life in Regard to the American Views of Excellence," for the "Year Book of Education," published in London.

He recently spoke before the Masonic Club of Easton on "The Rise and Fall of Hollywood," and before the Woodlury Women's Club on "The Challenge of Africa to the U.S."

This winter, Dr. Roucek, as co-author, has contracted with Rand McNally publishers to publish "The Neglected Aspects in the History of Education."

Along Park Place

with John Cupole

The Scribe Advisory Board has announced the appointment of John Cupole, a junior majoring in psychology, as writer of the Along Park Place Column, on a trial basis.

The board hopes that all organizations will submit items they wish printed in the Along Park Place mailbox on the first floor of Alumni Hall.

Straight from the "garbage" collector's mouth to Ed Wolff, who very forcefully asserted last week that Along Park Place was written in the fashion of a "high school gossip sheet" and that the column itself was "garbage." Ed, please try to be a little more tolerant while we attempt to transform this garbage into a more tasteful substance.

A salute to the Student Spirit Committee for their remarkable work with the most recent pep rally, which featured the Unholy

Three, the Flying Dutchman and the Purple Knight mounted on his shining black horse, named Charlie.

David Simpson set the school's record for being pinned for the shortest duration of time (nine minutes) in the history of UB. Dave, if you weren't so eager to give away your pin, you might find a more permanent pinmate.

Ed "Fidel" Hernandez, president of the Young Democrats announces that anyone is welcome to their meetings—even Republicans!

The TS Playboy Dance Friday night was a smashing success, but what happened at the "mixer" on Saturday? Congratulations to the Playmate of 1960, Miss Pat Kearney.

A frequent question Along Park Place has been "why is Barbara B. called the Miss Clairiol failure?"

Bob Lesko is not only the football team's end, but the team's barber as well. Sal "the barber"

Maglie's team has nothing over UB's squad.

Jeanie Richens has implied that she would rather carry $21 than 21 credits. Congratulations to Judy Resnick upon her engagement to Fred Pike, a UB alumnus who is now attending Boston University.

Best wishes to Murray Pruess, former news editor of the Scribe and Beverly Goldberg, who were married Saturday. The brothers of Kappa Beta Rho wish to announce their officers for the coming year: Bob Budd, president; Jim Smith, vice president; Ed Corey, treasurer and Al Churilla, secretary.

Carolyn Martin has had several impulses to flee UConn. Have Bob "Tippy" Anderson and Ruth "stripes" Lewis been on the outs again this weekend?

Campus Thunder Staff Selected

The technical staff for the production "The Peacock Season," has been announced by writer-director Albert Dickason.

Dickason revealed that an unexpected number of students have expressed interest in participation in Thunder's 14th edition.

Gerald Greenstein has been chosen for this year's technical director. Assisting him will be John Read as stage manager and Jack Rosenberg and Virgil Durso as assistant stage managers.

Other staff members include: Beth Seligman, script girl; Bob Ziedman, spot man; Mike Kaplan, light man; Joan Marsh, business manager; and Barbara Ignatowski and Leanne Donofrio, business assistants.

Also: Jack Csizmar, properties master; Sarina Mineo, Larry Schmitt, Ellen Strauss, Joyce Slavin, John Cunningham, Ralph Grimaldi, Jack McNamara, properties assistants and Anne McGrath, make-up chairman.

Pat Kearney, Rhoda Fogelson, Linda Goodsmith, Jeanne McCartin, Theresa Falco, Fran Smith, Carol Marcel and Bonnie Mittleberg, have been appointed make-up assistants. John Goldman is wardrobe chairman with Marian Szekeres, Diane Perna, Mary Lou Flanagan, Elaine Rubin, Marcia Smolens, Helene Esner, Barbara Ruedermann and Pat Farrell working as wardrobe assistants.

Technical assistants are: Martin Stauffer, Fran Greenberg, Lynn Sokol, and Margaret Lind.

SC Committees Organized

Frank Mizak, president of the Student Council, has announced that the Council has agreed to allow membership to standing committees for interested students that are not members of Council. However, he added that the chairmanship of the committees will be reserved for Council members.

The purpose of the various committees are as follows: Convocation and Jacoby Lecture Committee recommends speakers and select topics for weekly convocations and the Jacoby Lectures. The purpose of the Constitution Committee is to see that amendments and by-laws are kept up to date and that the students are aware of the contents of the constitution and the benefits it offers to them. The Homecoming Committee is composed of members from Women's House Government, Men's Senate, the Alumni Hall Board of Directors, the Interfraternity Council, representatives from the eight colleges and divisions and student members.

The purpose of the Student Dress Committee is to present the viewpoints of the student body toward student dress. The Suggestion Box Committee places suggestion boxes in the dorms, dining hall, Alumni Hall and encourages student ideas regarding changes they would like to make.

The Athletic Policy Committee coordinates suggestions of the students and Student Council with the athletic department in an attempt to foster better athletic policy on campus. The Parking Committee's purpose is to coordinate with the planning commission of the University in regards to the methods and means of eliminating the parking problem. Both the General Discipline Committee and the Ethics Committee deal with student discipline and ethical problems.

The Commencement Committee plans senior week and graduation activities. However, its membership is not limited to seniors. The Student Spirit Committee is split into three sub-committees consisting of activities, student spirit and publicity.

Students interested in joining one of the committees are asked to submit their names, address and committee preference to the Student Council mailbox, second floor Alumni Hall, prior to Oct. 31.

Alumni Councils Being Organized

Alumni advisory councils for the deans of the various colleges for help in curriculum matters are now being formed by the Council of Deans with Pres. James H. Halsey.

These committees will be formed basically for making suggestions to assist the deans. Their alumni reports will be transmitted to the deans with copies going to the administration.

Among the recommendations for the plan were the facts that it would not begin before Oct. 1961, three-year terms would be the basis of service for alumni, and that 12 persons for such committees per college might be an advisable number.

Also, appointments should be scattered and made by the deans. Alumni graduated five years or more will be considered initially.

UB Student Wins Alcoa Award

A University graduate has been chosen as one of six winners of Alcoa's Student Design Merit Award.

Dallas Molerin, of Norwalk, who graduated from the University last June, received the national prize for his design of a minimum living shelter, capable of being dropped by helicopter in times of emergency. The award is presented for outstanding student projects employing aluminum.

The shelter Molerin designed measures 18 by 16 feet and is capable of sustaining four adults for a period of two weeks. All necessary facilities are built into the walls of the compact shelter.

The six winners appeared in a recent Look Magazine article. They are the second group to receive the Alcoa Award.

College Magazine Seeks Writers

"College" magazine, subtitled "Entertainment and Enlightenment for College Eggheads," is seeking student contributors.

David Preiss, editor-publisher, recently said that "College" will be the "first serious magazine dedicated to the nation's college audience." He believes that it will soon become as popular as "College Humor," a national magazine which roused campus enthusiasm after World War II. Preiss adds that "we do not intend to mimic; it is our belief that college students today are interested in more intelligent and creative extra-curricular pursuits, and will read and contribute to a magazine they can respect, identify with, and afford."

Non-fiction, athletic and survey writers are currently being sought. Applicants accepted as "College" correspondents receive free subscriptions and are listed on the staff page. Interested students may submit material or questions to "College" Magazine, 1822 N. Orleans, Chicago 14, Ill. Return postage and envelopes must accompany all material to insure reply in two weeks.

"College" Magazine will appear at college bookstores and newsstands in November at $.40 a copy.

FBI Men Grab Crown at Speech

Mark Crown, the Scribe's photo editor almost ended up being a guest of the Federal government when he tried to go beyond the call of duty at Vice-President Richard Nixon's appearance in Bridgeport Monday.

Crown left the press area during Nixon's speech and went to the window of an adjacent building to get a good picture of the crowd. Although he had to do some fast talking to get back out of the building, he wasn't stopped.

The trouble began when he tried to re-enter the press area behind the vice-president. He was stopped by police and was unable to prove he had any reason to be there. A discussion with the alert policemen ensued and it was followed by two F.B.I. men coming over and taking Crown to a nearby building.

After talking his way out of his trouble he ended up seated in Nixon's car, but the police refused to let him leave the car to go and take the vice-president's picture while he was speaking. When he insisted he wanted to get a picture of the candidate he was hustled away again.

His apprehenders then began questioning people in the press area about the validity of Crown's right to be there. Fortunately Public Relations Director Vic Muniec was in the area and identified Crown and he was released.

BOOTERS SMASH BOSTON U, 6-2

by Jim Hill

Coach John McKeon's soccer aces have added two more notches to their win column after crushing both the University of Connecticut and Boston University by identical scores of 6-2. These two contests, both league games, boost UB's record to four wins and no losses.

In the UConn game, played Tuesday, Oct. 11 at Seaside Park, the Knights got off to an early lead by scoring three goals in the first period. John Majesko, always a scoring threat from the inside left position, took a pass from Pat Quigley, outmaneuvered the goalie, and pushed it into the net at 11:56.

Majesko decided to make sure a couple of minutes later and scored number two after taking a corner kick from Bob Dikranian. Jack Coogan got his first one of the game at 17:18 of the same period by taking advantage of a fumble. Coogan had his foot on the ball at just the right time and booted it past a confused goalie to make it 3-0.

All-American Hans Zucker got the only second period score on a beautiful shot from about 20 yards out. Zucker followed this up at 14:45 of the next quarter by gaining possession of the much-fought-over ball and slamming number five into the net for the Purple Knights.

The Huskies of UConn finally got underway in the last period when Rush scored twice, assisted the first time by Kurran. Coogan provided the final goal of the game unassisted about a minute and a half before the final whistle sounded.

The Boston University game, held last Saturday, also at home, was almost an exact replica of what the Knights did to UConn. Pat Quigley, UB's left wing, drew first blood for the Knights on an assist from Bob Miliken after the two teams spent practically the entire first period sizing up each other.

John Majesko came right back for Bridgeport at 1:13 of the second period to put the Knights ahead 2-0. Quigley was credited with the assist. Goal number three came about 13 minutes later when co-captain Hans Zucker booted a corner kick from Bob Dikranian in past the goalie.

Majesko also opened up the third quarter by dribbling the ball about half way downfield past three defenders and putting it in. Boston U. came back at 10:34, when a long shot by Budginas hit the cross bar and bounced in.

Coogan made it 5-1 on a pass from Quigley about seven minutes later. UB's Jon Olson scored his first goal of the season at 21:19 and Budginas of BU scored the last goal of the game at 7:53 of the fourth quarter.

The broken leg that Co-Captain Jim Kuhlman sustained in the UConn game has naturally hurt this outstanding soccer team. He has been on the All-New England team the past two years and his fine playing skill has been a credit to both himself and the University and an inspiration to his teammates.

If the Boston University score is any criterion though, Kuhlman's injury has only made the other members of the team fight that much harder. They are now rated as the top team in the nation and no one wants to settle for second best this year.

Zucker, Majesko and Coogan have five goals each so far this season to lead the Knights in the scoring column. Kuhlman hit two times for UB before he was injured, and Dikranian, Quigley and Olson each has one to his credit.

The Purple Knights meet the University of Hartford at Hartford Saturday. The game starts at 2 p. m. and we expect to see many fans on hand. Come on out and help the squad win number five.

Football Squad Takes Second Loss

by Marty Riger

The Purple Knights traveled to Springfield last Saturday afternoon and were solidly trounced by the Aces of AIC, 26-0.

It was the type of day that every coach dreads. A day when nothing went right, offensively or defensively.

John Mahoney opened the scoring for the Aces in the first period. He took a handoff from quarterback Glogowski and scooted the end for 31 yards to paydirt. In the second half, AIC fullback, Andy Griffin, scored on a six yard dive play for the second TD.

It was Griffin again, in the fourth quarter, who plunged up the middle for the third touchdown for the home team. In that same quarter Ace's halfback, Joe Mucci, scored from the two yard line for the AIC's final touchdown.

Nothing much can be said about the crushing defeat handed to the Purple Knights. The only ray of sunlight was the performances of the sophomore halfbacks Mike Oshan, Norm Pederson and John Hutchinson. Oshan, in the final stanza, took an Ace kickoff and raced 60 yards down the sideline to the AIC 26 yard line.

The Knights moved the ball down to the 1 yard line and it was there that the final gun sounded. Pederson, who has been brilliant on pass defense all year, picked off three more enemy passes to bring his season total to nine.

The boys realize that they played a tough game. In talking to a few of them, they just had one comment, "look out Upsala." Tomorrow night the Knights travel to New Jersey where they will encounter the Vikings of Upsala College. Upsala has looked very strong this year. The only common opponent both teams have had is Hofstra. The Vikings were defeated by the Flying Dutchmen 20-6 in their first game of the year. Last year Upsala squeaked out a 20-14 victory over the Knights. I see the "D" men rebounding and trouncing the men from New Jersey by three touchdowns.

AND I'M NOTHING

Don't let this happen to you. To cover any situation make it Schaefer all around!
